ADA COMPLIANCE/PHYSICAL DEMANDS ANALYSIS

Physical Ability: The work environment involves high risks with exposure to potentially dangerous situations or unusual environmental stresses which require a range of safety and other precautions.

This classification works in a correctional environment that requires physical stamina and exposure to hazardous and stressful situations. For example, employees must be able to respond quickly to an emergency; defend themselves or others against physical attack; force an inmate to the ground and apply restraints; and, with assistance, pull an inmate out of danger during an emergency situation. Employees are exposed to chemical agents used to debilitate non-compliant inmates.

Employees may be assigned to a different security post daily, to be determined by the needs of the facility. Dependent on the post, Detention / Correction Officers are constantly required to stand, walk, sit, and key information into a computer. Employees must be able to operate all equipment in a correctional environment such as security locks, restraints, flashlights, and radios. Employees will frequently perform duties in confined spaces.

Tasks require the ability to exert medium physical effort for up to four hours of uninterrupted work and to exert light physical effort for up to four hours of uninterrupted work, and may involve intense/heavy physical effort for short times.

Tasks include walking, running, climbing stairs, standing, crouching, and crawling unassisted up to 8 hours in a work shift, and in some emergency situations may require prolonged periods of walking or standing for up to 10 hours without relief

Due to the unpredictable and potentially life-threatening nature of Detention work, all deputies must be able to perform the full range of physical motion and may be expected to run short-medium lengths, including up or down stairs, at any time, and to have the physical and mental ability to assist in overcoming active physical resistance.

Employees must be able to reach, bend, squat, push or pull, crouch, and crawl frequently. Employees must be able to perform all functions of a correctional officer, with or without reasonable accommodation. Employees within this classification are considered essential to the safe operation of the correctional facility.

Employees are to work as scheduled. Employees must be able to work various shifts, extended shifts, weekends, and holidays. Employees within this classification are subject to movement to alternate duty locations, such as a hospital or courthouse, based on agency need.

Sensory Requirements: Employees must be able to finger, grasp, and have sensation in their hands. Employees must have no restrictions to fumes, chemicals, or smells. Employees must have visual acuity not worse than 20/40 corrected in each eye and peripheral vision of 70 degrees horizontally in each eye. Employees require the ability to hear and differentiate sounds, with or without mechanical assistance.

Employees must have hearing in a pure tone average of not worse than 30 decibels (dB) 500, 1000 and 2000 Hertz (Hz), with or without mechanical assistance. Employees must not have hearing worse than 45 dB at 3000 HZ or 55 dB at 4000 Hz in each ear.

Some tasks require the ability to perceive and discriminate visual and auditory cues or signals. Some tasks require the ability to communicate orally. Employees must be capable of issuing clear oral commands that can be heard and understood in loud environments.

Environmental Factors: Employees assigned to some posts within this description are exposed to outside weather, including extremes of temperature, precipitation, or wind. Employees must be able to perform all functions of a Detention / Correction Officer, with or without reasonable accommodation.
